

Study program: Management of food technology and gastronomy
Course name: Sociology of work
Professor: Valentina R. Vukosavljević – Pavlović, M.Sc
Subject status: elective course
ECTS: 5
Requirements: no requirements
Aim of the course Aim of the course is to familiarize students with the social changes in the world of work caused by the scientific-technological revolution.
Outcome of the course After successfully completing the course students will have acquired theoretical knowledge on modern trends in the world of work. This will present the necessary basis for both practical and professional performance in modern working conditions.
Content of the course Theoretical lectures The subject of sociology of work; Sociology of work and its relation to other sciences; Sociological determination of work; Types of relations in the work process; Social work actors; Work determinants; Sociological aspect of work organization; Social conflicts in work sphere; Scientific-technological revolution and human labour; Work transformations in the era of globalization; Work morals; Labour and time. Practical course work Changes in the labor sphere; Changes of social aspects of labor; Changes of labor technology and techniques; Changes in the social organization of labor; Changes in the content and labor character; Understanding the social work-related conditionality; Understanding the essential role of man in the work process and the functioning of social groups in the world of labor.
Literature <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Марковић Д., Социологија рада, Просвета, Ниш, 2001. • Болчић, С., Свет рада у трансформацији, Плато, Београд, 2003.
Total number of active teaching classes		Lectures: 30	Practical course work: 30
Teaching methods Lectures; practical course work, presentations of good examples of professional practice, case studies, preparation and presentation of term papers.
Evaluation (maximum points 100)
Pre-exam activities	Points	Final exam	Points
active participation in lecture classes	5	Written exam
active participation in practical course work	5	Oral exam	45
Colloquium	30
Term papers	15		